

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a spring garden. The background is a soft, light pink color with faint, larger floral shapes. In the foreground, there are several types of flowers: a large yellow flower with a dark center, a large pink flower with a white center and dark spots, a large white flower with pink veins, a large pink flower with a dark center, and a cluster of small yellow flowers. There are also several green leaves and stems with small buds. The text "Der Frühling ist da!" is written in a playful, rounded font in the center of the image.

Der Frühling ist da !

